

Protect and serve are part of your playbook. Sounds like we share the same goals.

You've protected and served our great nation, and that's a career whose satisfaction is hard to top.

But at Pacific Gas & Electric Company, you'll find like-minded people with a similarly impactful goal: to deliver safe and reliable energy to over 15 million Californians. When you join PG&E, our culture and values will feel familiar and supportive. Our partnership with programs like Troops to Energy Jobs and our own PowerPathway™ training program are proof that we walk the talk. In fact, of our 20,000+ employees approximately 1,200 of them are veterans. And our first ever veteran's Employee Resource Group is really gaining momentum.

We believe that PG&E is a place where veterans can come to grow and thrive in their civilian careers. But don't take our word for it. Visit our career website and hear what some of our veteran employees have to say about working for PG&E.
