

2023 CEWD Meeting Schedule

The Center for Energy Workforce Development unites workforce development professionals in the energy sector for critical conversations and industry collaboration on attracting, training, and retaining a skilled, diverse energy workforce. Through networking communities, strategic work sessions, and interactive virtual and in-person meetings, professionals whose responsibilities impact the future of work in energy are invited to engage in CEWD's programming to impact their professional development, their company's leadership, and the industry's action.
