

Get Into Energy Scholarship, Project Manager (Contract)

CEWD will soon announce a new partnership that will establish the Get Into Energy Scholarship Program (GIESP) to provide scholarships to students pursuing careers in energy. The program, supporting both technical training and four-year degree programs, will help individuals access essential education and training needed to succeed in high-demand fields in the energy workforce.

We are soliciting letters of interest for individuals or firms interested in managing this project for CEWD for one year on a contract basis. We estimate the project will require 400-600 hours of engagement, work that can be completed virtually, but principally between core business hours (in any continental U.S. time zone).

Project Scope

1. Work with CEWD's Senior Manager of Programs and program partners to design the Get Into Energy Scholarship Program and prepare for scalability in year two. (June and July 2025)
2. Develop marketing and promotion strategy and collateral to promote program within the industry (August and September 2025)
3. Work with CEWD's grant writing team to begin raising funds for the scholarship program from energy companies and their foundations and philanthropic organizations. (September-November 2025)
4. Establish a dedicated 'one-stop shop' destination page on the Get into Energy Website and support partner's creation of scholarship application, infrastructure, etc. (November and December)
5. Support public announcement of the program launch, inviting eligible students to apply for scholarships. (January 2026)
6. Coordinate review of scholarship applications and ensure selection of recipients. (April 2026)
7. Work with program partner on the development of a year-one impact report (Spring 2026)

Those interested in this work should submit a letter of interest detailing qualifications for the role and a resume or summary of professional experience to staff@cewd.org.

Note: CEWD expects to receive final grant award notification on this project by mid-June; however contract work may be delayed or cancelled based on donor engagement.
